To whom it may concern,

I have worked with Nestor since the beginning of September. He has worked as a tutor for Athenastudies. Nestor is a brilliant tutor. He can clearly explain difficult topics and easily captures the attention of the students. This shows through his evaluations by his students giving him a 9.52 out of 10. Nestor is hardworking and ambitious, and this shows through the extra hours he puts in for creating step by step SPSS videos for the students and consistently updating and perfecting his presentations to make sure they are of the utmost quality. Additionally, Nestor on his own accord, goes out of his way to help the other tutors, by showing them what important aspects to focus on and how they can explain this clearly. He is always going the extra mile for the students through being at late hours on the WhatsApp group, answering the students' questions. I can clearly see that he always wants to see the students succeed.
